-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1, what does the connecting foot connect? Line 2, what does 'it' refer to? 'Internal' and 'external' are reference to what? Does the rubber 'coat' the cylinder? Claim 2, 'rod of rubber' is unclear. What is 'filled' with the rubber? 'The end heads' lack proper antecedent basis. How are the 'ends' formed? How does the rod connect the heads if the rod is internal of the cylinder? Claim 3, what are 'concavities'? 'The two heads' lack antecedent basis. Claim 4, 'single piece of what'? How does it 'completely cover' the cylinder? Does it 'enclose' it? Claim 5 is unclear and have the same problems as claim 1. What do the elastic connecting feet connect? The operating plate and the machine body? 'a rubber ring is provided for' what? Which surrounds the feet group? 'which' refers to what? The feet group lacks antecedent basis, as does 'they reaction torque', 'the initial set-up', 'the dust'. What 'modifies' the initial set-up? What does 'thanks to the conveyor' mean? 'it' also creates, refers to what? Inside which the feet are placed is unclear. This claim is totally unclear. Claims 6-8 have similar problems as claims 2-4, previously mentioned.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103(a)

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 3, 4, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(q) as being unpatentable over Hosna et al.-4,905,772, alone.

Hosna discloses a connecting foot of a machining tool to dampen vibrations including a cylinder (28) covered by a sleeve of rubber with two ends (44,46) of rubber material. Hosna does not disclose the cylinder to be a hard plastic. However, it would have been obvious at time invention was made to use a cylinder of any known material, such as hard plastic, since these materials would perform equally well, and would be within the level of one having ordinary skill.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2, 5-8 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
